P.C.

. In the Annexure II produced before us, the petitioners are held to be entitled to only one strcture. Earlier that structure was held as residential and thereafter an order was passed that the structure is commercial. The contention of the petitioners is that they are also entitled to residential premises. The name of the petitioners in the Annexure II is not shown as entitled to two structures but only one structure. If the petitioners are aggrieved with the entries in the Annexure II, the petitioners to take steps in law to which they are entitled to.
